PROGRESS IS FAVORABLE

Something Definite Will Soon Be Known—Villa
Withdraws Troops to Torreon From Saltillo—Federals Shoot at American Aviators.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Washington, May 25.—After more than 24 hours of calm in the Mexican situation, disturbed only by a report that Mexican outposts had fired at American aviators at Vera Cruz, President Wilson and his advisers looked to Niagara Falls today for the unfolding of new chapters in preliminaries of mediators. Much attention was directed toward the constitutionalists' attitude over representation at the Niagara conference. It was known administration officials would be gratified if Carranza sent an agent, but they do not consider that indispensable at this time.

Exchanges between President Wilson and Secretary Bryan and the American mission at Niagara Falls were expected to continue today. Justice Lamar and former Solicitor General Lehmann had received suggestions from the mediators. These were submitted to Washington, and the American delegates received proposals which they communicated to the envoys.

Administration officials declined to intimate what the exchanges referred to from other sources, however, came declarations that the progress of the negotiations was favorable.

Belief was expressed in some quarters that the preliminaries would not be prolonged and that soon something definite would be known of the exchanges between Huerta and American delegates and the South American envoys.

Withdrawal of Villa's troops to Torreon from Saltillo which recently was advanced by the federal troops renewed interest here today in the constitutionalists' military campaign. The retirement, it was said, was based entirely on military expediency, Torreon presenting more advantages as a base for movements southward than Coahuila's capital. While an occasional hydroplane fight relieved the monotony of the watch of General Huerta's troops at Vera Cruz, the dreadnought battleships in the harbor varied their routine by maneuvering outside the bar. Rear Admiral Badger reported that the second division would go out for exercises today and the ships of the first division would have their turn tomorrow. The Admiral stated the Birmingham had arrived at Vera Cruz from Tampico, and the aeroplane section with Lieutenants Towler and Smith and Ensign Chavallier had been transferred to the Mississippi which would sail for Boston tomorrow.

Flag Raising at School of Blessed Sacrament Church
Was Event of Significance

An event of deep significance was the raising of an eighty foot flag pole in the school yard of the church of the Blessed Sacrament, Sunday afternoon, and the flinging to the breeze of Old Glory. The pole was made by the Tucker manufacturing company and is similar in design to that in front of the high school.

The flag pole and flag of proportionate size, were donated to the church of Blessed Sacrament schools by Newark Council No. 721, Knights of Columbus, and the raising was accompanied by appropriate ceremonies under the auspices of this organization.

At 2:30 o'clock the parade formed in West Main street, between Third and Fourth, company B, Old Guard, occupying the position of honor, headed by the Buckeye band, other organizations fell into line and numbered among them Spanish war veterans, fourth degree carrying the flag and third degree Knights of Columbus.

Proceeding out East Main street to the Blessed Sacrament school ground, the parade halted and the opening address was given by the master of ceremonies, Attorney Ray Martin, who explained the patriotic purposes of the Knights of Columbus, in raising the national emblem over the two parochial schools of the city, and gave expression to the sentiment of loyalty to the flag, which prompted such presentation.

Then followed in a concise and forceful address, the presentation of the flag by Grand Knight E. J. Mc-Carthy, and the acceptance by Rev. Father Chas. H. A. Watterson, pastor of the church, and superintendent of the schools, who delivered a masterful response, assuring the council that the principle of patriotism and liberty is always fostered and developed in the hearts of the children of these schools.

MEXICAN DELEGATES TO HEAR VIEWS OF
THE AMERICANS

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Niagara Falls, Ont., May 25.—The South American mediators planned to lay before the Mexican delegates today the views expressed by the American government through its delegates last night in several important developments in the peace conference here.

The session was expected to last most of the forenoon. The views of the Mexican delegates have been that the agrarian question is a purely internal one and foreign to the issues which provoked difficulties between the United States and Mexico. The American delegates, it is understood, have insisted the permanent peace in Mexico—the aim of all concerned—cannot be a reality unless economic questions are taken into consideration.

The exchange of ideas on this phase of the negotiations, as well as other points, was expected to continue throughout the day. Immediately after learning from the Mexicans their attitude toward the latest views presented by the Americans, another conference with the latter is expected. In this way the proceedings go forward each day, the mediators acting as channels of communication and explanation.

The presence here of Jose Requena and other intimate friends of General Felix Diaz attracted some attention. Although they were not believed to be seeking audience with the mediators, their conferences with the Huerta delegates spread the belief that they were seeking information as to the persons who would be suggested for the new provisional government that is to succeed the Huerta regime.

THOUGHT SALUTE
ATTACK ON CITY

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
On Board U. S. S. California, Mazatlan, Mexico May 24.—(Via wireless to Santiago, May 25.—A twenty-one gun salute fired by the American and Japanese warships in the harbor and by the federal fortifications was misinterpreted today by the besieging constitutionalists as an attack on the city instead of a tribute to the late dowager empress of Japan. General Obregon's batteries promptly opened a spirited fire in the city and a number of shells and a hail of machine gun bullets fell in the streets.

The gunboat Annapolis has been ordered from Santa Rosalia to the Yaqui river in response to an appeal from the French consul at Santa Rosalia for a warship to protect French and American residents from the Yaqui Indians. It is said the Indians have gone on the war path without effort on the part of the Mexican regulars to control them.

The Huerta steamer Herrera successfully ran the constitutionalist shore batteries today and landed two pieces of artillery and a quantity of provisions for the besieged federal army. However, provisions in the city are running very low and hunger has driven many of the poorer residents to the fort.

MAY FIRE OPENING GUN

Of Campaign Before Sailing
for Spain to Attend Son's Wedding—Will Pay His Respects to President
Wilson at White House.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Oyster Bay, May 25.—The trip which Col. Roosevelt is to make to Washington Tuesday took on new significance when it became known today that the former president would hold an important conference with Progressive leaders there. On his arrival at the capital, Col. Roosevelt will go direct to the Progressive headquarters, where he expects to see all the Progressives in Congress.

From them he expects to obtain first hand information as to the course of events in Washington during the last few months. This conference will determine in a large measure plans to be followed in starting the ball rolling for the fall campaign.

Colonel Roosevelt has been urged by many of his supporters, since his return from South America to lose no time in taking issue at once with President Wilson, without waiting for the formal opening of the campaign. He said a few days ago that he desired to keep out of politics as much as possible until after his return from Spain, but recent events have caused him to consider the question of jumping into the fray at once. He has already expressed his opposition to the administration policy in regard to the Panama tolls bill and the proposal to pay $20,000,000 to Colombia. It is understood that he will make his severest attacks upon the present administration's foreign policy and upon the operation of the Underwood tariff bill.

It has been suggested to the Colonel that by remaining he is permitting the Republicans to steal the march on Progressives by getting first into the field with their criticisms of the Wilson policy.

That suggestion has had considerable weight with the former president and he is not improbable that before he sails for Europe at the end of this week he will fire the opening gun in which is expected to be the hardest fight of his career.

Another possible outcome of the Washington trip is a meeting between Col. Roosevelt and Republican leaders. Reports that such a meeting might not take place reached Oyster Bay today. It was said this morning the presidential campaign of 1916 and the candidacy of Colonel Roosevelt on a joint Republican-Progressive ticket would be broached. The latter suggestion was scouted by Col. Roosevelt but he might not deny specifically that he might meet Republican members of Congress while in Washington.

It became known today that Col. Roosevelt received a visit last night from former Senator Albert J. Bayard of Indianapolis. He reached here in the evening long after the departure of other guests and departed shortly after midnight.

Mr. Roosevelt confirmed dispatches from Washington that while there he would pay his respects to President Wilson at the White House.

PRESIDENT TO RECEIVE "TEDDY"
AT WHITE HOUSE

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Washington, May 25.—Colonel Roosevelt will be received by the President at the White House tomorrow afternoon. The President invited the Colonel to lunch with him but Mr. Roosevelt found it impossible to reach Washington in time. He sent word, however, he would be delighted to call on the President during the afternoon.

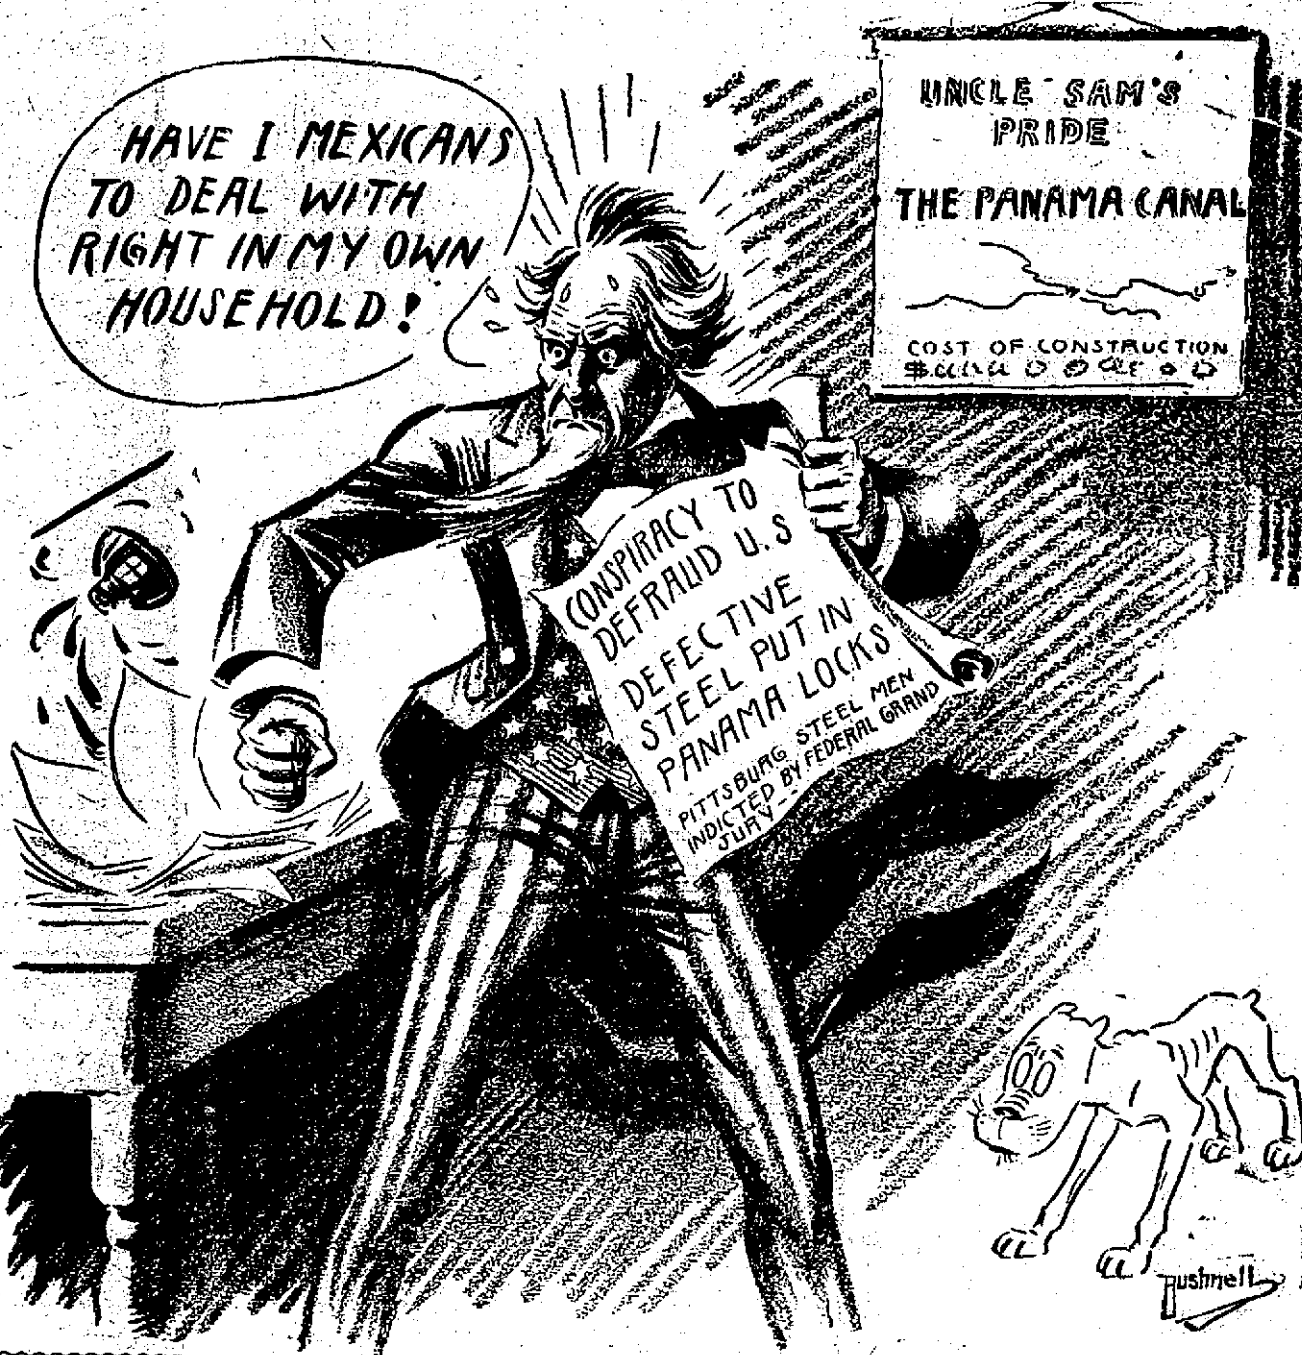

THE PRESBYTERIAN
GENERAL ASSEMBLY
ENDS NEXT FRIDAY.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Chicago, May 25.—The general assembly of the Presbyterian church in the United States started on its last five days of sessions here this morning with the heaviest part of its program ahead of it.

Questions concerning the organization of the board of home missions on the work of which depends to a great extent the expansion and influence of the church in this country, must be settled before Friday. More than two-thirds of the overtures in the hands of the standing committee relate to this problem.

A hard fight is under way in the assembly to break up the centralization of the control of the home missions and distribute representation on the board among the states on some equal representation basis.

ANOTHER INSULT TO THE FLAG

STEAMER HAS A COLLISION WITH ICEBERG

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
London, May 25.—The steamer Royal Edward of the Canadian Northern Steamship company, collided with an iceberg, 110 miles east of Cape Race while on her voyage from Montreal to Avonmouth.

The captain in a wireless message to the owners today described the iceberg as a very large one and said that the steamer struck it end on while "dead slow" in a dense fog.

ONLY "GRAZED" ICEBERG.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Montreal, May 25.—A wireless dispatch was received here Saturday from the Royal Edward. In it, Captain Wotton explained that his ship had "grazed" an iceberg. According to the steamship officials, the vessel was undamaged and proceeded on its way. No further advice have been received, it was stated today.

The Royal Edward left Quebec Tuesday last and was held up for several days in the St. Lawrence by smoke from forest fires. The ship has 865 passengers on board.

SEVEN HOMICIDES
WORK OF NEW YORK
GANGSTERS SUNDAY

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
New York, May 25.—The police and the district attorney's office today are investigating seven homicide cases reported within the 26 hours up to midnight last night. Four of the seven victims are dead and the other three are not expected to live. The dead lost their lives in gang fights.

According to the police this is the largest number of homicide cases in the same length of time in many years. The latest victim, Fred Hillock, staggered into the New York hospital last night. The police questioned sixty members of a social club house in the old General Franz Sigel mansion in Abington square where they believed Hillock was shot. He is expected to die.

Of the dead Charles LaMonti was shot while engaged in a fight in East 17th street, and Frank McCarthy, Frank Murphy and Frank Chimarra were also shot or stabbed in gang fights.

The church peace union was founded by Andrew Carnegie with a fund of $2,000,000 last February.

WILL TELL STORY
OF KIDNAPPING
TO GRAND JURY

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Danville, Ills., May 25.—The Rev. Louis R. Palmont, temperance worker, was prepared today to go before the grand jury and tell the story of his kidnapping at Westville, Ills., on the night of March 31.

A happy surprise came to the minister this morning as he entered the dining room of the home of Rev. Mr. Bickel, where he passed the night and found his aged father and mother who had come from Chicago to greet him.

Mrs. Elsie Palmont, his wife, was in Newark N. J., when news of her husband's finding was made known and she started at once for Danville and will arrive here tonight.

A number of detectives, some employed by the ministerial association and others working independently and three sent here by the First Church of Detroit, are endeavoring to ascertain the identity of the big red touring car which Palmont asserts carried him to the lonely farmhouse near Columbia, Ills., where he was found.

HUMAN NATURE
REDISCOVERED
BY CHURCHES

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Kansas City, May 25.—"For some years the churches have labored with the souls of men, forgetting that they had bodies. Now coincidence of the report of the public institutions to get into a more intimate relation with the lives of people they deal with, the churches have rediscovered human nature."

This was the statement made to the general assembly of the Presbyterian church in the United States here today, by Rev. J. S. Lyons of Louisville, Ky., as a preface to the introduction of the report of the joint committee of the Presbyterian bodies in the United States appointed to prepare a united declaration on Christian faith and Christian service.

The report urged that the churches take a more aggressive part in the social and industrial life of the community.

"We believe that the church is not only the appointed means of salvation from eternal death," the report says, "but that with the state and the family she has a distinctive work in bettering the social relations of men in this world."

Morning

BISHOPS ARE CONFIRMED

Ceremony Was Accompanied by Much Brilliance—
Pope Appeals for Po-

A number of bishops from various countries also were confirmed in their sees.

At the same time official announcement was made of the creation of Monsignor Bello, patriarch of Lisbon, as cardinal. His name had been reserved "in picture" at the consistory of 1911. The ceremony, which was accompanied by all the brilliant usual on such occasions at the Vatican was preceded by an allocation after which the names of the new cardinals were announced as follows:

Monsignor Louis Nazaire, Bégine, archbishop of Quebec.

The pontiff was surrounded by all the members of the sacred college living in Rome, and others present were Cardinal Gibbons, Farley and O'Connell.

The pope appointed Cardinal Francis Della Volpe to the office of Chamberlain in which position he will direct the affairs of the church during the conclave.

Cardinal Diomedeo Falconio, formerly apostolic delegate in the United States was also raised to the rank of Chamberlain.

The allocation of the pope was a strong appeal for political and social peace through restoration of religion and the influence of the church.

BRITAIN WILL NOT PARTICIPATE AT THE EXPOSITION

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
London, May 25.—The British government, acting contrary to the hopes held out by Premier Asquith to a recent deputation, finally decided today not to participate in the Panama-Pacific exposition at San Francisco.

On May 5, when a deputation representing more than half the members of the House of Commons called on the Premier, he told the members that the government would take the question of British official representation at the exposition under further consideration.

A settlement is not reached before 10 o'clock tomorrow morning when the big vessel is due to sail for Hamburg, she may be delayed at her Hoboken pier until new stewards and firemen are found to take the places of the strikers.

In the ship's crew are 430 stewards, and 600 firemen. The stewards receive $12 to $14.40 a month and demand an increase to $19.25. The firemen get $19.92 and want $26.40.

A REVOLUTION IN VENEZUELA

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
For Spain, Trinidad, May 25.—Gen. Jose Manuel Hernandez, the Venezuelan revolutionary leader, who is known as "El Mocho" today, appeared suddenly from here today and is understood to have gone to Venezuela, although his exact destination is unknown.

General Hernandez, it is assured, to carry out his daring enterprise took advantage of the temporary absence of the Venezuelan war vessels, which had been detained to watch the coast since the discovery of the presence here of General Cipriano Castro the former Venezuelan dictator.

The vowed purpose of General Hernandez is to start a serious revolution against the government controlled by Juan Vicente Gomez, who recently temporarily retired from the presidency so as to qualify for re-election for another term of four years.

Becker Will Do Much of
The Work In Preparing
His Case For Appeal

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
New York, May 25.—In the preparation of his appeal from the verdict of guilty on the charge of having instigated the murder of Herman Rosenthal, much of the routine work will be done by Charles E. Becker. Already Becker has prepared notes on a mass of notes left with him by his counsel.

The rule forbidding prisoners in the Tombs having Sunday visitors left Becker uninterrupted yesterday and he spent several hours going over legal documents. Before next Friday when he appears before Justice Samuel Seabury for sentence, Becker hopes to have the groundwork of his appeal far enough advanced for his lawyers to take up his fight for a third trial without delay. Becker is especially anxious for a quick review by the court of appeals of his second conviction and is said to have expressed pleasure for the recent ruling which provides that trial minutes may be submitted in appeals instead of a narrative of the evidence. Becker hopes to have his case ready for argument not later than next October.

Martin T. Manton, chief of the Becker counsel and his associate, and district attorney Charles S. Whitman, spent Sunday recuperating from the strain of the trial. On their return to the city today it was said that both sides would begin work on the case, Mr. Manton on the appeal for a new trial and the district attorney on features of the case grown out of the testimony of several witnesses. On the result of Mr. Whitman's investigation it was intimated today that prosecutions for perjury might be expected.

NEWARK BOY WINS HONORS AT THE MEET

Frederick Chase, a Denison sophomore son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Chase, of West Main street, Newark, won signal honors Saturday in the track events in the Big Six inter-collegiate meet held in Columbus, Saturday.

Chase made third place in the quarter mile dash, in the face of close competition. This is regarded as a first class record for the Newark young man for his first year in track work. He graduated from Newark High school two years ago. His winning of third in the finals was a surprise because of the short training he had undergone.

JUMPERS ARE NOT WANTED IN ASSOCIATION

Auburn N. Y., May 25.—Secretary John H. Farrell of the National Association of Professional Baseball Clubs has outlined the policy of organized baseball in the relations of its players with the Federal League clubs, as follows:

"It is the policy of the national board of the National Association that any player who has jumped a National Association contract or the National Association reserve list, shall be kept out of the National Association. Players who signed Federal League contracts while free agents are eligible to contract with our clubs upon being released from Federal League contracts. Neither shall our clubs be permitted to sign players who are under contract with the Federals. Players who have no respect for their contractual obligations are not wanted by our National Association clubs."

FOR CHRONIC COUGHS

Milton, Pa., Woman Has Found a Remedy.

Mrs. Howard Wagner of Milton, Pa., says: "I had a bad cold for months and would cough every night until midnight. I consulted a doctor and took two kinds of medicine but got no relief. Vinol was recommended and after taking it a week I could sleep all night without coughing once. I continued its use and now have a fine appetite, never felt better and my cough is entirely gone."

It is a well known fact that when a person is run-down, stomach out of order, or the system overloaded with waste matter, vital resistance is lowered and colds and coughs are easily contracted.

The safest and surest method we know to overcome this condition is by taking our delicious cod liver and iron tonic, Vinol in the most natural manner. Vinol tones up the digestive organs, promotes a hearty appetite, enriches the blood, and as a specific for chronic coughs, colds and bronchial troubles Vinol is unexcelled.

Try a bottle of Vinol on our offer to return your money if it fails to help you. Frank D. Hall, Druggist, Newark, O.

P. S. For rough, scaly skin, try our Sazo Salve. We guarantee it.

CANNOT RECOVER FOR TITANIC DISASTER

(Associated Press Telegram)
Washington, May 25.—Practically nothing may be recovered by those who lost relatives or baggage in the Titanic disaster, as a result of a decision today by the Supreme court. The court held that the liability of the Oceanic Steam Navigation Co. against the $13,000,000 claims against it as owner of the Titanic is limited in suits in the United States by the American limited liability law of 1851 to the value of the salvage recovered and the freight and passage money received on the Titanic's voyage. That amounts in all to about $31,000.

The decision in no way affects suits brought against the owners in other countries. Justice Holmes announced the court's decision from which Justice McKenna dissented.

IN MAYOR'S COURT.
Frank Rogers was fined $5 and costs on each of two charges of drunk and assaulting Leo Shaughnessy while the latter was charged with drunkenness and resisting an officer. This case was continued until Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

John R. Silliman, Missing American Consul, Who Has Been Heard From at Mexico City

After several weeks of effort the State Department has found United States Consul John R. Silliman, who was stationed at San Luis Potosi, Mexico. He reached Mexico City the other day from Saltillo. The case of Silliman had threatened to cause a break in the negotiations for peace now going on at Niagara Falls, Canada. Mr. Silliman went on a visit from San Luis Potosi to Saltillo some weeks ago, and on his arrival there he was thrown into prison by the federal soldiers. The formal charge made against him was that he had become an agent of the constitutionalists. Representations by the State Department failed to cause General Huerta to produce him, and he was not heard from until the constitutionalists took Saltillo.

ROD. MILLER IS FIRST GOLFER IN MATCH PLAY

A change in the rules of match play at the Newark Country Club's golf links has been made from those used last year, and the picking of a team to represent the club in tournament play, will be more likely under the new rules, to bring out the best golfers. This year there is no division into "class A," "class B," etc., but any player can challenge any other, and the final elimination will tend to leave only the strongest players in match play, to uphold Newark's prowess in tournaments.

For the week just ended, Roderick Miller has played himself up to first place, or scratch man in the list, by defeating David Manning in the last match played by a score of 6 up and 5 to play. Mr. Manning retains second place, supplanting Captain W. C. Miller, who by successive defeats at the hands of Edwin Besuden and Charles E. Hollander, has dropped to sixth. The standing of the first six in this order: R. Miller, D. Manning, Edwin Besuden, W. C. Miller, C. E. Hollander and W. C. Miller.

The games this week are expected to furnish fine golf play and maybe some surprises in standing.

BREVITIES.

No Fire Damage.
An alarm of fire Sunday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock was caused by some grass burning in the old canal bed near Myers court between the Pan-Handle tracks and the canal. The Newark company responded and quickly put out the fire without damage.

Commands Movement.
Dr. L. C. Sparks, in his discourse Sunday night in the First M. E. church referred in commendatory terms to the public playground in Newark, and declared it a good omen when the public spirit reaches the place where it comprehends in a way the needs of the coming citizens for fresh air and healthy exercise.

Mr. Marple Improving.
The condition of A. H. Marple, the North Fourth street grocer who is under treatment in the Newark Sanitarium, was reported somewhat improved Monday, and there are said to be excellent chances for Mr. Marple's early recovery.

THOUSANDS OF FOREIGNERS ARE RETURNING HOME.

(Associated Press Telegram)
Pittsburg, May 25.—Railway passenger officials today expressed the belief that the return movement of foreign born residents of the Pittsburg district will reach high tide during the coming week. Approximately 20,000 men have returned to their former homes in southern Europe the past few months, but reservations for next week show a small falling off. So heavy was the travel last week that from five to eight extra coaches were added each night to the emigrant trains.

SERVICE LAW ANNULLLED.

CROUP RELIEVED IN FIFTEEN MINUTES

No need to dose with nauseous drugs or alcoholic syrups. Simply rub a little Vick's "Vap-O-Rub" Croup and Pneumonia Salve well over the throat and chest. The vapors inhaled loosen the tough choking phlegm and ease the difficult breathing. One application at bed time, covered with a warm flannel cloth, is a sure preventive. Vick's is quicker than internal medicines for all inflammations of the air passages from head colds and catarrh, asthma and bronchitis—down to deep chest colds and pneumonia. Try a jar now.—25c, 50c, and $1.00.

PROSPECTS ARE BRIGHT AT BLAIR'S

TRUCK TO BE SENT TO PHILADELPHIA MAY BRING ORDER FOR HUNDRED MORE.

Standard Oil Company Has Ordered Twice, and Others have Been Placed Recently.

The truck manufactured by the Blair company of West Newark, is rapidly taking its place in the front rank among products of the kind now upon the market and the prospects are more than bright for a big boom in the activities of this plant.

John P. McCune, president of the company said Monday noon that the future was very rosy and he had no fear of success in fair competition with any other make. In support of this statement he cited the fact that the Standard Oil company had given them two orders which may be a nucleus for many more. One truck is building for the Freedom Oil company, which will be operated in this city. Another will be shipped the latter part of this week to Hartford, Conn.

However, the biggest deal in immediate prospect is expected from Philadelphia. A truck is being constructed for an auto-bus line in the Quaker City, having an upper and lower deck for carrying passengers. The prospect is this, that if the New-ark made truck makes less noise, and is in other respects as satisfactory as the imported ones now in use in New York City, an order for one hundred more will be immediately placed with the factory in this city.

These busses are to be equipped with a gaso-electric motor which will furnish propulsive power as well as for lighting and starting. Those in charge at the Blair manufacturing company have no fears but that their product will more than fulfill every specification and are accordingly hopeful of getting the big order, which will mean a revolution in the industry at the West Newark plant.

BOY INJURED WHEN STRUCK BY AN AUTO

The condition of Frederick Abraham, who was knocked down by an auto driven by a Frazeeburg man on Saturday afternoon is not so good today. The boy was standing in the spray of a sprinkling wagon in North Fourth street in front of the Belmawr flats and ran in front of the machine. It knocked him down but fortunately did not run over him. Dr. H. H. Postle was called and found him to be seriously bruised. His playmate, Kenneth Smith, was also struck by the machine, but caught hold of the auto and saved himself from being knocked to the ground. The Abraham boy lives in the Mayflower flats.

Gladstone and Disraeli.

It was Disraeli at the Academy banquet who said that "the noble, distinctive trait of British art was its boundless fertility in imagination and fancy." In the reaction after the banquet, as he was going home with Mr. Goschen, he "descanted on English painters and deplored their total want of fancy and imagination." Being reminded by his companion that this was not exactly what he had led people to believe was his opinion in his speech at the banquet, "No," replied Disraeli, "but, my friend, one must be pleasant after dinner."

Very characteristic was the comment next morning of Mr. Gladstone, who glared at the companion and roared out: "Do you mean to say that he carried his glib insincerity with him those walls? It's hellish!"—Independent.

Choosing the Easier Way.

"I thought you were going to invest your money in stocks?"
"I did think of it."

"Have you changed your mind?"
"Yes. I went into a broker's place the other day for the purpose of watching the market a little while. Have you ever been in a broker's office?"

"Yes."
"Then you know the layout. There is a big blackboard upon one of the walls. At each side of the room there are tickers. Facing the blackboard are several rows of chairs, which are occupied by men who have bought or sold. They sit there, nervously chewing their cigars and watching the quotations as they are written on the blackboard."

"What has that to do with your decision not to invest?"

"After watching these watchers for awhile and studying their expressions, I decided that it would be easier to go on working for the money I'm going to need."—Chicago Record-Herald.

Deep Knowledge.

At an interval during a recent session of the supreme court of an eastern state Judge —, turning to an associate on the bench, said:

"By the way, you know almost everything, tell me so and so."

The judge addressed replied: "Why do you say almost?"

Whereupon the judge said: "I haven't told you everything I know yet."—National Monthly.

NEWARK HIGH'S POOR SHOWING IN TRACK MEET

ONLY ONE MADE SHOWING.
JONES GETTING THIRD IN HIGH HURDLES

Denison University Was Also a Poor
Fifth in College Events—
Prouty Won Discus.

Newark school athletes made a miserable showing Saturday afternoon at the inter-scholastic field meet on University Field, which was held in conjunction with that of the "Big Six" university conference. Jones, of Newark, succeeded in getting one point by finishing fourth in the 120-yard high hurdle race. Denison University, in which Newark people are most interested, did little better, getting fifth place with 9 points. Prouty, of the discus throw, scored the only first place for the Baptists, while Chase took third in the quarter mile run. Ohio State was first with a total of 60 points. Oberlin second with 49. Case third, with 11. Reserve and Cincinnati tied at fourth with 10 each. Denison sixth, with 9. Wesleyan sixth, with 8. Wooster seventh, with 5, and Miami eighth, with 3.

But two records were broken. Kessler, of Ohio State, scaling 12 feet in the pole vault, and Harvey of Oberlin making six feet one and one-half inches in the high jump. One Big Six record was tied, Alexander, of Case, running the half mile in one minute fifty-eight and two-fifths seconds.

The most hotly contested event of the day was the pole vault, in which Kessler, of State, and Wagner, of Cincinnati, were neck and neck until the height of 11 feet 3 inches was reached. This was the best Wagner could do, and he was forced to stop. The bar was raised twice more for Kessler, however, and on the second trial, at the twelve-foot mark, he went over, thus setting a record which is likely to stand in the Big Six competition for some time.

Dunn of Oberlin, lived up to his reputation for being the fastest man in the state in the shorter distances, taking the 100 and 220-yard dashes and 120-yard high hurdles and in the latter event coming within two-fifths of a second of the record. The annual interscholastic meet, the finals of which were run off between the collegiate events, brought fourth several pretty races. The meet was won by East High, Columbus. The secondary school boys threw overboard four records and tied another during the course of the afternoon. The best performance in this section was also in the pole vault, Higgs, of Ashville High clearing 11 feet 1.8 inches, beating the former record held by himself by 1-4 inch. Higgs, of Scott High, Toledo, closely pressed by Shaw of Steele High, Dayton, was forced to clip one fifth of a second from his own record in the hundred, setting a new mark at 10 seconds flat. Schubert, of East High, Columbus, beat the former high school mark in the mile by 2-5 seconds, bringing the new mark down to 4 minutes 38-5 seconds. Brittain, of East High, Columbus, lowered the 3200-yard hurdles mark to 17 seconds flat, this time being one-fifth of a second better than the old mark.

RITCHIE WILL FIGHT WHITE AT MILWAUKEE

MANY WISE ONES BELIEVE THE CHAMPION HOLDS THE JEW
TOO CHEAPLY.

A Clean Victory For White Would

Willie Ritchie, champion light-weight and Charley White will box ten rounds Tuesday night before the Milwaukee Athletic club, and the bout is expected to furnish both a lively mill and a probable surprise to the money-mad Ritchie, who seems to hold the stocky Jew cheaply. If ever there was a swelled head champion, it is Ritchie, and lovers of boxing would not shed any ocean of tears if White decisively finished him off in their bout in the beer town. Of course Ritchie will go in to the mill as favorite, and as there is no decision given in Wisconsin, there would be a wide divergence of opinion should the battle go the limit, and one or the other just get a shade over his opponent. A decisive victory for Ritchie by the knockout route, would not be a counter-proposition of White putting a quietus on him, would stir the sporting world and bring Ritchie down a peg from his unreasonable opinion of his worth in dollars and cents, as an attraction for promoters. And White has admirers who would not be surprised if the unexpected happened.

Although Billy Ritchie is today the best lightweight in the world, his terms for a match with Freddie Welsh, the English champion, are beyond all reason. He asks $50,000 to fight the Welshman at Dick Burke's Club, and will not sign articles till he gets it. Burge is running the Olympia in London and wanted to stagger the British sports with a fight between England's best and the champion of America. He pulled a stagger all right, but it was he who felt the blow. Fifty thousand for Ritchie's end. My, what a thump. No one in America ever heard of such a thing before. Jim Corbett got but $45,000 stakes, purse and all when he beat John L. Sullivan at New Orleans. Ritchie is evidently figuring on getting enough for a rainy day.

JOHNSON WILL GET THE COIN AFTER CONTRACT

With Washington Expires—Griffith
Unworried, Says Speed King
Will Do Right.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Washington, May 25.—"I will pitch for the team that offers me the most money," said Walter Johnson, premier pitcher of the Washington Americans, here Sunday, after a conference with Joe Tinker, manager of the Chicago Federals. "I am not going to sign any contract for 1915," he added, "until my contract with the Nationals expires. Then the manager who offers the best contract will get my services."

Johnson was asked if that meant he would pitch in the Federal League, provided a contract to his liking were offered.

"It means anywhere on earth," he replied.

When Clark Griffith, manager of the Nationals, was informed of Johnson's statement, he said: "I am not worried. When the time comes Johnson will do the right thing."

POINT OF VIEW.
A lawyer was arguing a case before a certain judge, between whom and himself there was no love lost. The judge listened for a while with ill-concealed impatience, and then burst out with:

"But, Mr. W., you have your points of law all upside down!"

"I don't doubt that they seem so to Your Honor," replied Mr. W. "but you'll think differently when Your Honor is reversed."—New York Tribune.

REINDEER LODGE MADE SUCCESS OF CARNIVAL

Residents along the willows, near Main and Eleventh street, awoke Sunday morning to see a change in their neighborhood. The Jefferson street grounds, where Mack's United Shows held forth all last week under the auspices of the Order of Reindeer, had been stripped of their gaudy colored canvas tops and hundreds of electric lights. The big shows had moved, and were being loaded aboard the cars ready for shipment to Akron, where they will exhibit this week.

Saturday night witnessed immense crowds on the grounds and the showmen and concessioners expressed delight over the good patronage received from Newark people. Mr. Edward Jessup and Mr. Maxwell, of the management, declared they were sorry to leave Newark, but were hopeful of returning next season.

The Order of Reindeer realized well from the week-of-joy, and as a result of the success of the carnival with its clean list of attractions, square business methods and with the aid of the weather man, the order's treasury is several hundred dollars richer. Many new applications for membership are being received since the show week began, and it is now expected that the charter will be closed within a very short time. The charter was closed once, then re-opened.

All business of the lodge will require a good attendance next Wednesday night.

LINSERS DEFEAT THE C. A. C. TEAM

The C. A. C. team was defeated at Zanesville by the Linsers by a score of 6 to 4. Four hits and two errors netted four runs in the second for the Linsers. A walk, two hits and one more produced two in the eighth. A home run by Nehls scored the first C. A. C.'s run in the fourth. Winter's homer with one on scored two in the eighth. A double and a single scored one in the ninth. The features of the game were the shoe string catches by Welsh and Winters, and the batting of Melvin, Nehls and Winters.

Social Justice In Ohio

How times have changed! Truly, a new order of things is at hand. Yesterday, on the same proofsheet, there came to the editor's desk two news items telling of state aid to unfortunates. One story told of a Columbus workman, totally disabled by an accident at an East Side manufacturing plant, being granted $3,646.75 in cash and $9 a week for the remainder of his life by the state industrial commission. The other item related the award by the commission to a Columbus woman of $3,297.84, payable at once, to enable her to buy a home for her five children, orphaned when the husband and father was accidentally killed by an electric wire.

And we could not help thinking, as we read these stories, not unlike others that appear every day now, how much better it is to be a workingman in the State of Ohio today than it was only a few months ago. In the past the survivors of the victims of industrial accidents generally inherited nothing more than a law suit. And most frequently these suits were lost. And if they were not lost, through the opposition of the high-priced and skilled lawyers that big corporations employ, they were always dragged out through so many courts and over so many years, that even a judgment for the plaintiff was eaten up by court costs and attorney fees.

But now all this is changed. The great State of Ohio now stands behind its sons and daughters who toil and guards their rights with a firm hand. The new order is more than mere "workmen's compensation." It is Social Justice.—Columbus Citizen, May 22.

What About Our Tax Rate For 1914

In Findlay where an enormous increase has been made in personal property returns this year, the announcement has been made that the tax rate this year will be reduced to 5 mills.

In Conneaut, the taxing officials have told the property owners of that thriving little village, that the 1914 tax rate will be one cent on the dollar. The rate during the past year was over 13 mills, which makes a reduction of over three mills. This lessening of the rate is a direct result of the increase which has been made to the duplicate.

In our own county there has been a big increase to the duplicate. This is true in every township and every municipality. Why can we not have a lower rate?

The Truth About the Kilpatrick Law

Referring to the enactment of the Kilpatrick law, which was done to remove the manacles which were strangling many school districts and townships, Prosecuting Attorney Turner of Franklin county said in part at Lakewood: "We had a positive law whereby the raising of the duplicate would automatically lower the rate. Why was that repealed?" In the legislative bribery cases.

could not be met if the 1910 limitation b continued.

"Official reports and communications received since then confirm the soundness of that advice. The essential and salutary features of the Smith law are the 10 and 15 mills limitations, and I am of the opinion that the only sure way to retain these limitations is for the people to ratify the Kilpatrick law. To my personal and official knowledge the desire of the Governor in recommending the Kilpatrick bill was to preserve and strengthen the Smith one per cent. tax rate law."

This statement was made by Attorney General Hogan some time ago when the Equity Association was endeavoring to have a referendum on the tax reform measures.

Lest We Forget!

Lest the people forget the past too soon it is well to call attention to the fact that George B. Cox, the Republican boss of Cincinnati, to whom the leaders of that party "paid deference and devotion," as Warren G. Harding expressed it in pleasing alliteration, a few days ago paid into the State Treasury the sum of $13,000. This represented 3 per cent interest upon illicit deposits of State funds in his Cincinnati Trust Company's vaults by State Treasurer McKinnon, Cameron and Green. In addition Mr. Cox paid the court costs and the fees of the Master Commissioner, George B. Okey, who took the testimony. There has been recovered, since these investigations began, $114,000 and there is about $80,000 more in sight. Since the installation of a series of Democratic Governors and Treasurers the State has received $1,016,000 in interest, or about $200,000 a year. Better than that, laws have been enacted which will make it impossible for future Treasurers to restore the old condition of grafting. No wonder that the participants in the old system of stealing are clamoring for a return to the "good old days." Torture! The hands do not go backward on the clock of honest administration.

But for the election of a Democratic state treasurer and attorney general, the grafting in the treasury department probably would not have been exposed, and the robbers would not have been molested. In view of this, it would seem that it is hardly safe to entrust the collection of the remaining graft claims to representatives of a party, which was in power when the peculations were made and then so stoutly denied charges of wrong-doing until the guilty refunded the "swag."

Official figures show that the "extravagant" cost of the State government in Ohio is $3.18 per capita each year. Of this amount $1.23 goes for schools, benevolence and correction and 13 cents for direct taxes (good roads) and the irreducible educational debt due to universities. The remaining $1.86 pays all the rest of the bills and virtually all of it comes from excise taxes upon corporations, the liquor tax and other imposts on classes. The individual ratepayer contributes an infinitesimal sum.

When the state administration, acting in a sternly paternal way, takes an extravagant underling out into the woodshed and paddles him soundly, the two Republican press bureaus at Columbus scream in sympathy with the wrongdoer. They should understand that the motto of the Democratic party is not "addition division and silence." That's theirs.

Imitating that great statesman and doctrinaire, General Jacob S. Coxey, Joseph Benson Foraker has placed himself at the head of a mighty but shadowy army of unemployed, and started a march on Washington. Alas, poor ghosts!

'EUGENICS VERSUS LOVE'

Beauty.

Maggie Fennell.....Margaret Fischer
Harry Pollard.....Squire Buntus
Lizette Felite.....Mary Mayan

THE directors of the Battle River Motion Picture company are meditatively munching Ambrosia flakes while considering the publicity proposition suggested by one of their number that they offer a prize of $500 to the first couple marrying in compliance with elegant requirements. As soon as they decided on this step, up jumped Squire Buntus announcing his son as a candidate for the eugenic contest.

While these momentous events were transpiring in the directors' room, the squint's son, commonly known as "Squint," due to a slight optical defect, was trundling down the road on his bicycle, with a small wagon attached behind, containing the epicurean supplies for the Fennell family, which he delivered in person from his employer's grocery store. This duty was no burden to Squint, for at the Fennell back door he always met Maggie, the daughter of the house, than whom he thought no girl was sweeter. Maggie had an eye for Squint, and two very good looking white arms, too, it appeared, so the little episode of the morning delivery of groceries was a pleasant occasion all around.

Yet Squire Buntus, knowing his son's predilections Fennellwards, proposed him for this eugenic marriage, which was a decidedly thing to do, considering that Maggie reached just nicely to the height of the husky Squint's heart, that she was a lightweight, and that her hair was as dark and curly as his. The day of the contest for feminine candidates saw such an assemblage of muscular, angular, and corpulent femininity as moved the directors to gratitude that none of them was in the contest on the opposite side.

Out of the chaos Lizette Felite, strapping damsel approaching the seven foot limit, emerged as champion, and to her the reluctant Squint was led protestingly. Up to the very minute of the wedding Squint continued to protest, with Maggie consistently near at hand, adding her objections.

Maggie was also present at the ceremony, and just when the beaming Lizette and the weeping Squint were about to join hands, she flung herself between them, grabbed Squint's arm and ran with him out of the building. Squint's tears evaporated and quick as a wink he popped Maggie into the box behind the bicycle, mounted the wheel himself, and pedaled away down the road for dear life—and dear Maggie—being quite lost in a cloud of dust before the amazed members of the wedding party recovered sufficiently to get to the door.

Said Maggie, exercising a feminine prerogative.

—AND THE WORST IS YET TO COME

SMALLEST TOWN WITH WATER SUPPLY

Sharon Center, Medina county, O., enjoys the probable distinction of being the smallest town in the state having a system of water works. From the side of a hill well above the level of the village a strong stream flows from the sandstone rock. The stream from this spring fills a four-inch pipe, and the flow does not vary perceptibly with the change of seasons. A large cement tank holding 900 barrels has been built farther up on the summit of the hill. A hydraulic ram has been set a little below the outlet of the spring. From this, water is forced into the tank. A service pipe leads from the tank to the town all most a mile away. This water, coming as it does from the sandstone rock, is pure and has the added advantage of being soft. There are many farms in Ohio where it would be possible to install a hydraulic ram and service pipes to supply the house and barn with an abundant supply of fresh pure water. In many cases there is a nearby hill high enough above the house where a cement storage tank could be located, thus insuring a constant supply safe from frost.

England is ahead of the United States in the development of the automatic telephone service, and contracts for automatic exchanges of the total value of nearly half a million dollars have been placed.

Uncle Walt

The Plumber.

With stately stride the plumber comes, and stays around a while and plumbs. He gives the boiler sundry slaps, and tinkers with the pipes and taps and when he leaves my humble place a smile of gladness lights my face. For he has made a modern shack of my abode, which, three weeks back, was such a people used to own along about the age of stone. For years I bought all kinds of pills to cure my relatives of this. My poor old granny had the heaves and swallowed tea of bonest leaves, year after year, and still felt punk, with daily spasms in her trunk. My aunt was foundered, and she knew green pains with every breath she drew, and though I bought her pails of dope, the poor old girl was shorn of hope. My Uncle Hiram's rheumatiz just kept him muttering, "Gee whizz!" And everyone around the shack had pink humbug in the back. And then the Wise Man came along, and said, "You'll ne'er be well and strong, you'll always have the grievous gripes, until you put in modern pipes." The plumber came, with lead and brass, and freed the place from sewer gas, and sprung some sanitation curves—and gets the praise that he deserves. Now granny has no fell disease; she's swinging on the high trapeze; my aunt can take a fall from Gotch in seven minutes by the watch, my Uncle Hiram, rid of aches, can whip Jack Johnson in three shakes.

FORMER NEWARK WOMAN DIED IN BUFFALO, N. Y.

(Special to the Advocate.)
Buffalo, N. Y., May 25.—Miss Cora C. Montgomery, formerly of Newark, O., died early today after a brief illness in the Buffalo general hospital. (She was the daughter of the late E. Martin Montgomery, of Silver Creek, N. Y. Funeral services will be held at Silver Creek, Tuesday afternoon, interment being made Wednesday at Newark.

The above brief message was received Monday morning from the Advocate's Buffalo correspondent concerning a woman who was at one time well known here, but who left Newark some fifteen years ago. She lived at the corner of East Main and Front streets with her father, who for many years was proprietor of the Montgomery flour mill. She was the last of her family, her father, mother, step-brother and brother Willis Montgomery, having been dead for some years.

The deceased had visited in Newark, being the guest of Mrs. W. L. Prout and other friends, to whom the Advocate's announcement came as a distinct shock. Mrs. Prout is inclined to believe that a mistake has been made in the place of interment, as all of her relatives are buried in the East, and she did not know of any arrangements having been made here for the burial.

In a letter received some days before the first of May by Mrs. Prout, Miss Montgomery expected to go into the hospital on that date, as she was suffering from abscesses in the stomach.

The deceased was about 50 years of age.

A PROGRESSIVE CENTRALIZED SCHOOL.
One of the best examples of what can be accomplished in a centralized school through better trained teachers and more complete equipment is found in the school at Lucasville, Valley township, Scioto County, Ohio.

The valuation of this township is but a million and a half dollars. Still, through the leadership of Superintendent F. S. Alley, a centralized school has been erected and a fine equipment for industrial work installed in the building. A regular four-year course is given in the high school by three trained teachers, each of whom conducts a particular phase of the industrial branches, manual training, domestic science, and agriculture. A large basement room is divided into laboratories to aid in the teaching of chemistry, physics, biology, manual training, and domestic science. The manual training room contains 15 individual work benches and the domestic science room 10 individual stoves, two sewing machines, dining room, table, and dishes. All counters, lockers, and tables were built by the boys in their manual training work. There is also a room in the building which is frequently used for public lectures. Three acres of land about the building afford ample space for a school garden and plans are being made this spring to set out shrubbery in desirable places about the grounds.

FIGHTING DISEASE GERMS

There is a popular idea that most sickness is caused by a germ of the disease finding entrance to our bodies through the food we eat, the water or milk we drink or the air we breathe. This is true as far as it goes but it is also true that disease germs are entering our bodies every day without causing disease.

The reason for this is that there are forces within the body that are constantly fighting these disease germs and it is only when this defense is weakened that the germs get the upper hand and we become ill. One of the most powerful of these forces that work for health is rich, red blood. Good, healthy blood increases the resistance of the body to the diseases that are always threatening. It is easier to keep up this resistance by taking Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, eating proper food, avoiding articles of food that do not agree with us and getting plenty of fresh air day and night, than it is to cure disease after it gets a foothold. Keep up the resistance of your body to disease by these means and you can get at any drug store, and you will avoid much sickness.

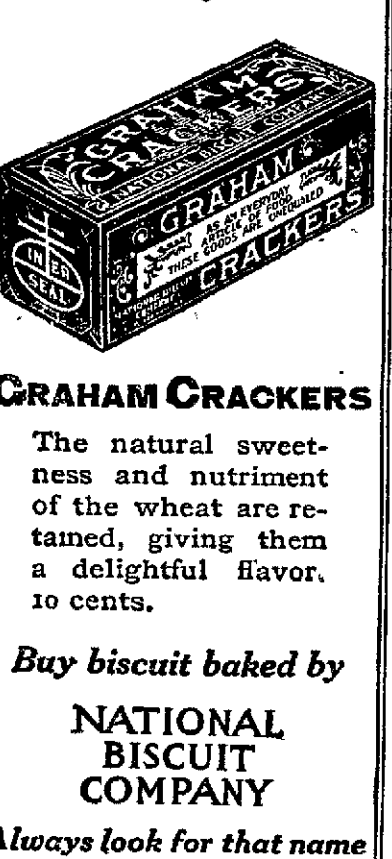

Two booklets, "Building Up the Blood" and "What to Eat and How to Eat," will be sent free by the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y.

The Basque is Coming Back Into Fashion

French houses are predicting the basque for the not distant future, and while it is a little early to say whether it will be universally adopted, the costume of the sketch looks very much like a forerunner. It was worn at one of the races held near Paris very recently.

The long tunic of the skirt, which reaches to within three or four inches of the skirt proper, is extremely full and is indicative of the shorter and wider skirt which may soon become popular. The effect of this tunic is very new and smart. The material used for the costume was a very soft and light quality duvetyn in a dark shade of blue. A little roll collar of white organdie finished the neck, and a touch of the same material was introduced on the cuffs. The only trimming was a half dozen medium sized buttons, which started at the V-shaped neck and extended almost the length of the waist, and this was pulled down loosely over the hips and gave somewhat the effect of the loose girdles which we are now wearing.

Well developed plans are being laid for using the aeroplane for surgical work to war. The idea is to provide the aeroplane with the equipment of a small field hospital.

LITTLE DISCUSSIONS OF LOVE AND MARRIAGE

BY BARBARA BOYD

The Tyranny Of Home Life.

"What are you reading?" asked the Bachelor.

"A book by the most talked-about writer of the present day, I think I should call him. He is writing about the petty tyrannies of home-life, and says it is not a natural way to live."

"Humph!" growled the Bachelor. "And what method of living does he advocate?"

"He doesn't advocate anything radical. He just wants home-life improved in some particulars. And when you think of it abstractly and not dulled by familiarity, as it now is, it certainly has some queer features."

"For instance?" inquired the Bachelor.

"Well, for one thing, all the members of a family have to eat at one time and practically the same things; time and things usually decided by the one who dominates the family life. I'll admit as things are today, it is a condition that can't be remedied; but nevertheless, it is a sort of petty tyranny. Then again, temperance, not laziness, may make it more enjoyable for some members of the family to stay up till midnight and arise at noon. But think of the complaints and scoldings and general disagreements such a course would produce in any well regulated family."

The Bachelor listened attentively.

"Then take the matter of sleeping. This writer tells of a wife who wants a well ventilated bedroom. The husband wants the windows open a mere crack. This is another case of petty tyranny. One or the other must give in or there are continual squabbles. Yet the point of difference is in reality of no importance whatever. Family life is full of these opportunities for petty tyrannies, between husband and wife, between parents and children, between brothers and sisters. And therefore, he says, it is not a natural life. Life should be free of such little unimportant handicaps. And family life should be adjusted, so there would be no opportunity for the members of a family to rule each other in these ways."

"I do not say that family life as it is lived today is perfect," replied the Bachelor. "And no doubt in some families there are tyrants. But it seems to me that family life as he would have it would make for supreme selfishness. There would be no give or take in it, no adjustment, no compromise, no getting the other fellow's point of view, and thus a broader point of view. Family life, when it is lived where love rules, makes the members of the family gentle, considerate, thoughtful, unselfish. Family life as he would live it, would, it seems to me, make one even more tyrannical than the present petty tyrannies he speaks of. One would have one's own way supremely; whereas in most families, unless some one member is a very strong tyrant indeed and the rest unusually docile, there is a give and take, a readjustment to the point of view of others that is beneficial. Personal liberty in family life is a good thing, but it is always very easy to carry personal liberty too far. In his style of family life, every member of the family might easily become a tyrant."

"But wouldn't that be better than to have one mercilessly rule all?"

"That is not necessary either. Let love rule all and petty tyrannies will vanish."

Madame Ise'bell Says

LESSON XIII—PART III.

Excess flesh is prone to accumulate about the waist line, the hips and the bust. When these parts are equally affected the reducing exercises that I have given earlier in this lesson and the diet should be followed exactly. When there is more flesh on one part of the body than on another, certain exercises should be repeated.

A Too Full Bust.

We cannot safely reduce the size of the bust except by breathing exercises that tend to harden the bosom and make it more firm. But we can reduce the flesh under the arms. This is a bad place for excess flesh, for it makes the bust look large and causes the arms to hang in awkward fashion. Reduction on this part of the body can be effected by reducing exercise 1 given in part VI of this lesson, and also by the following exercise which we will call R. 4. R. 4—Stand erectly, well poised on the ball of the foot, right arm hanging straight with hand turned so palm is parallel with the floor, and left arm raised so that back of hand is laid against lower part of cheek and jaw and elbow raised as high as possible. Push down as strongly as possible with the right hand, raising the elbow of the left arm at the same time feeling the under arm muscles pull. Now repeat the movement, changing the position of the hands. Do this twenty times night and morning in addition to the other reducing exercises and the loose flesh under the arms will soon turn into firm muscle.

Hip Reducing.

For hip reducing practice the rolling exercise R. 2 (given in part VI of this lesson) night and morning, giving as much time to this as possible. Practice also the last movement of the wane exercise given in part II of this lesson. Salt rubs will also be helpful. For this make a very strong brine in sea salt in the bottom of a big tub and soak two large Turkish towels, lay these over the tub and let them drip until dry. After the usual bath rub the body with a salt towel, treating vigorously the loose flesh over the hips and upper legs.

MORNING COMES; AWAKE; ARISE

Majority of Human Family Pass
Through Life as If Asleep.

STATE OF MENTAL INACTIVITY

Some Asleep in Death—Others Asleep in Ignorance and Superstition—Still Others Asleep in Worldliness—Some Christians Half Asleep—The Awakening of the Soul—Mental Eye Opening to See Things in a New Light. The Light of the World—The Sun of Righteousness Rising With Healing in His Beams Will Dispel Darkness.

(PASTOR RUSSELL)

Christ shall give thee light.—Ephesians 5:14.

The Pastor introduced his theme with the observation that the majority of humanity are not awake; that they seem to be passing through life in a dreamy state, that as a rule they are not thinking about the important matters of life, but about the trivialities—what to eat and drink, what to wear, where to go, etc. The world, he declared, spends its time thinking about these things rather than about the things that pertain to God, to His will and His ways, and to the everlasting life of the future.

Then the Pastor reminded his audience how this state of mental inactivity has been brought about. While the world in general may be said to be asleep, in one sense of the word it is dead. Thus the Apostle declares of the Church, "You . . . were dead in trespasses and sins." The whole world is under the sentence of death passed upon Father Adam because of his disobedience to the Divine command. Our first parents sinned, and their posterity, all mankind, shared with them the penalty, "Dying, thou shalt die."—Genesis 2:17, margin.

But this death sentence that was passed upon all has been changed, the speaker asserted, to be a sentence of sleep, from which there is to be an awakening. God foreknew the fall of man, and purposed to redeem the human family from death. In the Divine Program Jesus was the Lamb of God slain from before the foundation of the world. Therefore, because God had purposed the redemption and restitution of humanity by an awakening from death, He always speaks of death as a sleep, when communicating with those who believe.

The Awakening of the Soul.

Proceeding to his text, the Pastor discussed his theme in three divisions: the awakening of some of the world in the present time, the awakening of the Christian, and the future awakening of the world during the Messianic Reign. To all who come to the Lord, he declared, there came a time when they began to think of subjects unthought of before—the higher things, those pertaining to God and the world to come. Up to that time some had been steeped in sin and degradation; others had lived merely for the present and seemed never to think about anything except the trivial affairs of everyday life. But somehow they began to realize that they were sinners and that there was a sentence against them. Perhaps they got the right view, that this sentence was one of death; but more likely they got the wrong view, that it was a sentence of eternal torment.

Then the Pastor showed that the majority of children reach this important crisis between the ages of twelve and fifteen years. At that period there is a great change in human nature; and therefore it is a most advantageous time for the forces of spiritual growth to spring up in those who have reached the age of responsibility. The speaker here dwelt upon the duties of parents and teachers who have control of the young at this important stage of development. While he fully believes in the importance of training a child in the nurture and admonition of the Lord from the very beginning of its existence, yet he holds that both parents and teachers should be especially alert with children at this most favorable time for opening their mental eyes to see things in a new light, for their learning to look beyond the trivialities of the present life to the higher things pertaining to the life to come.

"Arise From the Dead."

The Pastor next pointed out the fallacy of the belief that the "young must sow their wild oats," and expressed regret that even Christian parents seem to be imbued with this false idea. Those who sow wild oats, he said, will reap wild oats; for "whatsoever a man soweth, that shall he also reap," according to the Scriptures. His thought is that from the beginning of its existence the child mind should be kept near the Divine standard. The parents should be able to express to the child in sympathetic terms those thoughts which it is so ready to receive from any one in whom it has confidence.

One great difficulty, the Pastor declared, seems to be that children lose confidence in those whom they find to be deceitful. Even if the person has never deceived the child, it soon finds out whether he deceives other people; or practices falsehood in any way; and as a result of that knowledge the child mind is perverted. It loses faith in others, and imbibes that same dishonesty of purpose and thought. The speaker also deplored the fact that some parents seem to think it wise and proper to teach children to take advantage of somebody else, and even to fib a little, in order to further present interests. This, he declared, is a serious mistake.

Those who awaken to a sense of responsibility to their Creator should arise from the dead condition as far as possible, the Pastor holds. He reminded his hearers that when one first awakens in the morning, there is a mental freshness which is invariably lost if one turns over and falls asleep. So the moment of the soul's awakening is a favorable moment of which to take advantage. But if the soul has no encouragement at that critical moment it may drop off to sleep again. All who are awake should do all in their power to encourage those who have just awakened, that these may rise from the dead world and be separate from conditions around them.

"Christ Shall Give Thee Light."

The speaker declared that merely to awake to a realization of one's condition, merely to arise from the dead condition of the human race as respects higher things, is not to be a Christian. While Christ gave the light which enabled us to see, first of all, that the wages of sin is death, but the gift of God is eternal life through the Redeemer, yet the newly awakened must accept Christ as their Ransom-sacrifice, must lay hold upon Him, before they can be considered Christians.

Pastor Russell went on to show the steps to be taken in order to have one's eyes of understanding opened. The first step is to recognize that we are all sinners and to accept Christ as our Redeemer from the curse of sin and death. Those who take this step are shown the second step—that of consecration. Unless that step is taken, the light will not shine much more clearly for that individual. Those who take each step as soon as it is clearly seen will go on from grace to grace, from knowledge to knowledge; for "the path of the just is as the shining light which shineth more and more unto the perfect day." So then, in order to progress one must take the step of full consecration to the Lord.

The Awakening of the Christian.

Next the Pastor pointed out the mistake which many of us have made in the past. We did not really know what it is to be a Christian. We do not become Christians, members of the Body of Christ, when first we awake or when first we arise from the dead. Then we were merely looking toward Christianity, merely getting the soul awake to see the possibility of harmony with God and escape from the condemnation upon the world. As St. Paul declares, there is condemnation upon all except those who are in Christ Jesus. But from the moment we get into Christ we lose the condemnation of death that came upon the race because of Adam's disobedience. Then we are individually on trial for life.

The first trial for life everlasting was given to Father Adam, the Pastor said. Adam failed to pass the test, and thus brought condemnation upon all his posterity—the world of mankind. It is a point in law that a man under condemnation for a capital offense cannot be condemned again unless first freed from the previous condemnation. As a race, mankind were sentenced to death by God's Law, "Dying, thou shalt die." Since all humanity is under this condemnation no one can have an individual trial through Christ until first he has gotten free from that condemnation which is the penalty of Adam's sin. So the mere awakening to a realization of our condition does not give any one a second trial for life. Arising from the condition of sin and degradation and trying to live an honest, decent life would not mean that one had passed into trial again.

Church Only on Trial Now.

Then the Pastor demonstrated from Scripture that only the Church class are now on trial for life, and that the world is not on trial at all, but is "dead in trespasses and sins." The world's judgment lies in the future. The Church's judgment has been progressing for nearly nineteen hundred years. The first to be tried was the Head of the Church—our Lord and Savior Jesus Christ. He was found worthy and was glorified. The Apostles were tried, and throughout the Gospel Age the individual members of the Church have been tried. Soon the trial of the Church will have been finished, the last member will have passed beyond the veil and entered into the joys of his Lord.

Those begotten of the Holy Spirit are now on trial for life on the spirit plane. All thus on trial will fall into one of three classes. One of these classes will get the highest place—the Divine nature—as members of the Royal Priesthood. Another will get a lower place on the spirit plane, as members of the Great Company—the anti-typical Levites. The third class will not get life on any plane. This class will probably not be large, the speaker thought.

Applying his text to the Church, the Pastor said that he was not sure but that many professed followers of Christ are asleep. In the context the Apostle seems to imply that some of the people of God who have escaped from the bondage of sin and death, and have come into Christ as New Creatures, have become overcharged with worldly cares, and thus may figuratively be said to have fallen asleep again. The sleepy ones will not be of the Kingdom class, he declared. St. Paul says that the true Church are not of those who are asleep, but are children of the Day; and therefore they are to remain awake and be sober, looking for the great salvation which is to be brought unto them at the Second Coming of our Lord.

Those of the Church who go to sleep now are those who are overcharged with the cares of this world and with the deceitfulness of riches—whether by intermarrying, and thus having the world brought so close to them that they are overcome by its influence; or whether by business entanglements or alliances or partnerships, or what not, that may be unfavorable to their spiritual interests and their consecration to God. After one has become thoroughly awake, and has become a member of the Body of Christ, there is great danger that such a one may become overcharged with worldly cares and the deceitfulness of riches. One may get the deceitfulness of riches without having the riches; for the effort to get the riches may develop the deceit.

The Awakening of the World.

The Pastor then discussed his text from the standpoint of the future. At the beginning of the New Day of Christ the world will be asleep—some in death, others in ignorance and superstition. But the tumult of the Time of Trouble, with which the Scriptures everywhere declare the change of dispensation will be accompanied, will certainly awaken the majority of those who are not in their graves. Some are awakening now; later, the whole world will awake, and Christ will give them light.

The thousand years of the Messianic Kingdom will be a time of rising from the dead. Not merely those who are in their graves will arise, but all who are living at the time of the establishment of the Kingdom will be awakened, before the awakening of those in the tomb. When awake both classes will begin to rise out of sin and death conditions, trying to get a little higher and more awake, in order that they may receive some of the blessings of that glorious time.

The Scriptures declare that at that time the Sun of Righteousness—Christ and the glorified Church—will arise with healing in its beams. Then the poor world, that have been in sorrow, pain, crying and dying, afflicted of the Devil for six thousand years, will begin to look up to the great Redeemer for deliverance from the power of Satan. For the thousand years of the Messianic Kingdom the Devil will be bound and have no power to deceive the people. The true light will then shine out, and the darkness of superstition and ignorance will be scattered.

World's Trial Future.

The Pastor then drew a soul-inspiring picture of future conditions as figuratively shown in the Scriptures. The New Age will not bring in full light all at once. The great Sun of Righteousness—Christ and the glorified Church—will have a gradual rising, like the natural sun. Gradually its rays will dispel the darkness and clouds; gradually the light of day will increase. During the thousand years the world will be rising gradually from the dead. It will require the entire period of a thousand years to accomplish the resurrection of the world, now dead in trespasses and sins.

The Pastor strengthened his argument with a description of the personal test which God will bring to each member of the restored race at the close of the Messianic Reign, when Christ will have delivered up the Kingdom unto the Father, and mankind will have been left to themselves. Those who have learned really to love the right and to hate the wrong will be ready for such a test; those who have not developed such a character will not be ready.

The nature of this test we may not yet know definitely, the Pastor said. In the Revelation it is represented as the loosing of Satan, to go forth to deceive the whole world of restored humanity. Everybody who has any sympathy whatever with evil will be detected into taking the wrong course. Doubtless those who have reached perfection of human nature would not take that course if they realized that it would bring death upon them; therefore they would dodge the wrong course merely for fear of the consequences. But God is not pleased to give life everlasting to those who would merely dodge the penalty of wrong doing. Only those who love right as He loves right will receive the boon of life.

In conclusion, the Pastor showed that those who fail to pass the final test will be destroyed in the Second Death, and that this action on God's part will not be unjust or unkind. "Mankind were born without life rights, and God has not promised them eternal life. The blessings of the incoming Age are all of Free Grace." All of His blessings must be appreciated from the standpoint of right and wrong. Those who fail to learn the principles of righteousness will not be acceptable with God, either now or in the future. God seeketh such as worship Him in spirit and in truth, such as love righteousness and hate iniquity—justice. Christ is to be the great Light-giver to mankind—"The true Light, that lighteth every man that cometh into the world." Happy are all they who receive that Light now!

"Awake, my soul, stretch every nerve, And press with vigor on; A heavenly race demands thy zeal, And an immortal crown."

FOUND.

This story is told of an absent-minded professor of Drew Theological Seminary. One evening while studying he had need of a book-mark. Seeing nothing else handy, he used his wife's scissors, which lay on the sewing-table. A few minutes later the wife wanted the scissors, but a diligent search failed to reveal them.

The next day the professor appeared before the class and opened his book. There lay the lost scissors. He picked them up and, holding them above his head, shouted: "Here they are, dear!"

Yes, the class got it.—Everybody's.

DOG SPORTS A GOLD TOOTH ON LOWER JAW

"Queen" is a brindle bulldog who bears the distinction of possessing a bright gold tooth despite the fact that she is only eleven months old. But that doesn't bother Queen. She sleeps quite as peacefully and strolls about quite as unconcernedly as if she were not a canine of caste.

Queen, the Canine With the Gold Tooth.

She is owned by Dr. A. L. Wahn, of the Union Painless Dentists, 16 1/2 North Park Place.

A short time ago Dr. Wahn discovered that Queen had ample room on her lower jaw for an extra tooth, so he placed her in an operating chair and began work. She never flinched during the process. On the contrary she proved to be the easiest kind of a patient to work on. When the tedious job was finished, Queen stretched her legs, yawned as if to display her new tooth, then sought out her favorite pillows and took her afternoon siesta.

The picture shows Queen in a comfortable attitude after she has grown used to dentistry.

NEWARK FLORISTS NOTICE.

An enterprising young florist, in order to increase his trade, displayed this sign in his window:

"We give a packet of flower seeds with every plant."

His competitor across the street promptly sought to meet the competition by placing in his window the following announcement:

"We give the earth with every plant."—Tilt-Bits.

Ohio Happenings.

One hundred and fifty blind people gathered at Canton on Sunday from all parts of the state for the annual convention of the Ohio Federation of the blind.

Phil M. Crowe, appellate judge from Bucyrus has announced his candidacy for judge of the supreme court on the non-partisan ballot.

Former City Treasurer Samuel Church, 65, died at his home in Marysville, following a stroke of paralysis. He was a prominent Republican.

A wheeling traction car jumped the track at the entrance to the Aetna bridge over the Ohio river at Bridgeport, but was stopped before it could plunge from the bridge. No one was injured.

Carl H. Bates, attorney, of Columbus, is in a critical condition in a Lancaster hospital as the result of injuries received in an auto wreck. The machine was driven by Lulu Parker of Logan.

Former Adjutant General C. C. Weybrecht and wife had a narrow escape from death at Alliance, when their auto skidded and turned over, pinning both under the steering wheel. Both received painful injuries.

Clarence B. Hartness, 30, had his skull fractured when he was struck by an electric car in Columbus. He was taken to the Protestant hospital.

Five persons were hurt at St. Clairsville when a local B. and O. train overturned near Neffs. William Boyd of Stewartsville was seriously hurt.

A man giving the name of Charles Jones was arrested at Coshocton for stealing a horse which was hitched to a hitching rack, and which belonged to Earl Jennings.

Those interested in the selection of the Almac site for a postoffice at Coshocton have offered to pay two-thirds of the expense of a special election for that purpose. They state such an election should be taken in the legal way and at the regular voting places of the city.

EAT LESS MEAT IF BACK HURTS

Take a glass of Salts to flush kidneys if bladder bothers you—Drink lots of water.

Eating meat regularly eventually produces kidney trouble in some form or other, says a well-known authority, because the uric acid in meat excites the kidneys, they become overworked; get sluggish; clog up and cause all sorts of distress, particularly backache and misery in the kidney region; rheumatic twinges, severe headaches, acid stomach, constipation, torpid liver, sleeplessness, bladder and urinary irritation.

The moment your back hurts or kidneys aren't acting right, or if bladder bothers you, get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any good pharmacy; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush clogged kidneys and stimulate them to normal activity; also to neutralize the acids in the urine so it no longer irritates, thus ending bladder disorders.

Jad Salts cannot injure anyone; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which millions of men and women take now and then to keep the kidneys and urinary organs clean, thus avoiding serious kidney disease.

UNKIND TO THE PIGS.
A minister, spending a holiday in the North of Ireland was out walking, and, feeling very thirsty, called at a farmhouse for a drink of milk. The farmer's wife gave him a large bowl of milk, and while he was quenching his thirst a number of pigs got round about him. The minister noticed that the pigs were very strange in their manner, so he said:

"My good lady, why are the pigs so excited?"

The farmer's wife replied, "Sure, it's no wonder they are excited, sir; it's their own little bowl you are drinking out of!"—Tilt-Bits.

MOST PEOPLE ANXIOUS TO AVOID WAR

By ARTHUR W. DUNN.

Washington, May 25.—[Special.]—As reports are received from different parts of Mexico about the outrages committed on American citizens and the methods by which the Mexicans in Vera Cruz conducted their warfare are disclosed in private letters, bitter comments are made against Mexico, and the Mexicans, and there is a general demand among such people for a declaration of war against those responsible.

At the same time I think that the positive assurance that has been quietly whispered about for the last week or ten days that there will be no war against Mexico has been received with thankfulness by most people.

It is said that President Wilson has given assurance that nothing but the most extraordinary and flagrant outrages against the government will force actual hostilities by this country in Mexico further than we have already gone. There is an intense desire that some sort of peace shall be patched up and, if possible, that the Mexicans shall be left to run their own affairs in their own way.

Do Not Want a Vote.

There are a lot of men in congress who do not want a vote on either the prohibition resolution or the woman suffrage resolution. In some districts it will not make any difference to the member about his vote on these questions. In others the casting of a vote may mean defeat. Naturally there is an effort on the part of men to protect their fellow partisans, and not force a vote on these two troublesome questions.

I remember away back in a congress presided over by Tom Reed that a man from South Dakota, Major Pickler, who was an intense prohibition advocate, often put the Republicans in a hole by his methods, much to the disgust of Speaker Reed. Whenever it was possible Pickler would offer a prohibition amendment to some bill. The Democrats would generally vote in committee in the bill and then demand a ye and nay vote when the bill came into the house and thus force the Republicans to be recorded for or against the prohibition proposition. The Democrats themselves would vote solidly against anything like prohibition, and it left the Republicans responsible in their different districts for the way they voted. It cost quite a number of men their seats in congress.

A Great Change Noted.

Such things cannot happen under present conditions; in those days there was not a single southern prohibition vote, nor were there any prohibition votes from the Democratic strongholds of the large cities. Now if a vote is to be recorded it would be found that half of the Democrats from the southern states would vote for prohibition. A mighty change has taken place in the last two decades in the sentiment of the south on the liquor question. I do not believe that it would get a two-thirds vote in the house, but it would get a mighty large vote when men had to go on record.

The Absent Members.

Day after day it is demonstrated that absentees are causing a loss of time in the senate and are placing the house of representatives at the mercy of one man. No one can blame members for leaving the house rather than listen to speeches of no importance or the technical discussion of bills in which only a few people are interested, but the results are that any one man can force a roll call and thus consume a great deal of time. If a man desires to talk he will consume time, and if he shut him off he will make a point of no quorum and cause a loss of time. There are often criticisms made in the house against the senate being dominated by one man who wants to filibuster, but it happens in the house whenever there are so many men absent.

A Shot at Smoot.

Every member of congress, whether in the house or senate, who seems to know pretty much everything about everything, is apt to get called down at times, and occasionally somebody takes a little shot at Reed Smoot. The Utah senator interrupted Senator Smith of South Carolina the other day, and the southern man rather resentfully remarked, "Oh, I would leave all knowledge of all affairs to the senator from Utah!"

Telling It to O'Gorman.

This is the way a diplomat like Senator Hoke Smith of Georgia told Senator O'Gorman of New York that his Irish ancestry had prejudiced him against Great Britain. "I trust the distinguished senator from New York will pardon me for observing that his bright mind does not possess all of its usual judicial qualities when Great Britain is involved."

Hoping For Senate Nonaction.

The Democrats of the house want to go home more than they ever did in their lives. To many of them this is a particularly important campaign. They are having trouble in securing re-nominations in the primaries, and then there is the further trouble of securing election next fall. They want to go home and make their campaigns. They want to defend the actions of the Democratic party and to answer all of the complaints made by their opponents.

What they really hope for is that the senate will sidetrack the bills that cause so much discussion. They would like to see a "gentlemen's agreement."

which would mean that the house can pass the trust bill and the senate send them to committee to be perfected and then adjourn without final action. That is a real fine program if they could get the assent of one man.

The One Man Powerful.

You might think that enough pressure could be brought to bear upon any one individual to get him to consent to an arrangement that is as pleasing to a vast majority of Democrats as this seems to be, but that one man happens to be Woodrow Wilson, and he has more power than all the Democrats combined. The probabilities are that he will not assent to dis-regarding the program that he has mapped out, even if it causes him a great deal of personal inconvenience and he has to remain in a tent in the White House grounds for the rest of the summer.

We Will Build Embassies.

No matter how much fun we poke at our diplomacy or how much it may be criticised—and some of it ought to be criticised severely—we are going to have embassies built in a number of capitals.

This is going to be done notwithstanding the opposition of such men as Congressman Wingo of Arkansas, who protested vigorously against the appropriation of money for two or three embassy buildings when the diplomatic bill passed the house.

"You can make the arguments that have been made," said Wingo, "and it will not be many years before they will say that the dignity of this great republic requires that we appropriate money to buy the grape juice which the diplomats drink and the knee breeches which they wear."

"Pussy Footed Filibuster."

Comic opera has furnished us a "merry war," and various extravaganzas have amused people in different theaters, but it fails to the lot of the house of representatives of the American congress to furnish a "pussy footed filibuster." Such a change was made in regard to a bill which now occupies calendar Wednesday and blocks all legislation in the house. The charge has been reiterated several times, and nobody denies it, and so it has gone into the records that a great legislative body is conducting a "pussy footed filibuster."

Cannot Beat Them.

It makes senators and representatives who live on their salaries and who feel that they cannot afford motorists and chauffeurs somewhat restless and peeved when they see government officials on moderate salaries whirling through the streets in automobiles. Nearly every appropriation bill provides for an automobile for somebody, and it has been the experience of legislators that the use of such automobiles is never confined to government service, but that they nearly always become "joy ride wagons" for the particular official who is fortunate enough to have control of the machine.

Wasted His Time.

Jim Mann was trying to explain patiently to Congressman Wingo of Arkansas something about the embassy buildings.

"I am familiar with all that," said Wingo. "I have read the Record."

"If you have read the Record all these years you were a busy person," said Mann.

"I have wasted a good deal of my time since I was a young man—reading the Congressional Record—I am free to admit that," responded Wingo.

First Things

The first white man to stand on the shores of the Mississippi, the father of waters, was Ferdinand de Soto, who began his exploration of what is now the United States, 375 years ago today, May 25, 1539, when he landed in Florida near the site of the present city of Tampa. De Soto came of a noble but impoverished family of Spain. In 1515, when only twenty-three years of age, he made his first trip to the New World with Davila's expedition to Darien. In 1527, he explored Nicaragua, and afterward assisted Pizarro in the conquest of Peru, returning to Spain with a fortune of "an hundred and fourscore thousand ducats." In 1537, he married his sweetheart Isabella, who for fifteen years had been faithful to him, and Charles V, made him governor of Cuba and gave him permission to conquer Florida at his own expense. In 1538 he sailed with his bride, accompanied by twenty-four ecclesiastics, twenty officers, and 600 men. De Soto left his wife in Havana, and after landing with his company in Florida, ordered the fleet back to Cuba. Lured by tales of rich gold mines, De Soto pushed on to the West, and in 1541, the Mississippi was reached and crossed. In 1542 he returned to the "father of waters," where he was stricken by a fever and died. His body was lowered at night into the waters of the great stream he had discovered, and the few survivors of his company made their way down the river and finally reached the town of Panuco, Mexico.

TURN HAIR DARK WITH SAGE TEA

Grandma kept her locks dark, glossy and thick with a simple mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur.

The old-time mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur for darkening gray, streaked and faded hair is grandmother's treatment, and folks are again using it to keep their hair a good, even color, which is quite sensible, as we are living in an age when a youthful appearance is of the greatest advantage.

Nowadays, though, we won't have the troublesome task of gathering the sage and the mussy mixing at home. All drug stores sell the ready-to-use product called "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy" for about 50 cents a bottle. It is very popular because nobody can discover it has been applied. Simply moisten your comb or a soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair disappears, but what delights the ladies with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur is that, besides beautifully darkening the hair after a few applications, it also produces that soft lustrous appearance of abundance which is so attractive; besides, prevents dandruff, itching scalp and falling hair. Mrs. Joseph Nies, formerly Miss Charlotte Beany, will leave on Tuesday for Grand Rapids, Mich., where she will make her future home with her aunt, Mrs. Nies, will enter one of the training schools of the City Hospital and study to become a trained nurse.

Fisherman's License.

Ohio fishermen who expect to journey to northern Michigan this summer can secure their fishing license of W. H. Gunckel, cashier of the Clerks' Savings bank of Toledo, O. It is sometimes quite difficult to secure the license in northern Michigan.

Stepped On Broken Bottle.

A nine year old lad named Shook, was brought into Dr. J. G. Shire's office Monday morning with a long, deep gash cut in his left heel, which he got by stepping on a broken bottle. After dressing the injury the lad was taken to his home in 12th street in the Clinis- & Martin ambulance.

May Open Memorial Day.

A meeting of the Retail Merchants' Association has been called for this evening to make arrangements for the observance of Memorial Day. A number of merchants have circulated a petition to secure the consent of the employers to keep the store open for that day, this year the holiday falls on Saturday. The matter will be discussed and decided upon tonight.

Snowstorm Anniversary.

"Twenty-seven years ago Friday, May 22, it began snowing in the afternoon," said Charles Henry to an Advocate reporter Monday. "The snow continued intermittently throughout the night," continued Mr. Henry, "and the next day several inches of the beautiful covered the ground. I was in Findlay, O., at the time and we secured a sleigh for a sleighride of the thing and enjoyed a sleighride in May, something that every one does not experience."

FIVE GOOD REASONS.

The ice trust having offered a silver loving-cup for the best excuse which might be invented for raising the price of ice after the present cold winter, we hopefully submit the following:

1. The ice being so thick and heavy it costs more to handle it.
2. The blocks are so large that there is great waste in cutting them up for the retail trade.
3. The ice is so cold it freezes solid in the storage houses and is very difficult to get out.
4. As the winter has been so cold, the summer will necessarily be very hot, and the demand for ice very great, so that it is doubtful if there will be enough to go around.
5. The ice being extra thick, extra cold, and extra quality, through it is only proper that an extra price should be demanded.

6. The price of ice never had any relation to the cost of production, anyhow.—Life.

WOMAN'S SUFFRAGE.

may eventually give the women rights to which they are entitled, but good health, which is the birthright of every American woman, must be hers before she can fully enjoy the privileges which woman's suffrage will bring. Women who suffer from those dreadful pains, backache, headaches, irritability, nervousness and depression, symptoms of organic trouble, should rely on Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, which is made from the roots and herbs, to restore them to a normal healthy condition as it has thousands of other American women.

France and the Frenchman.

The French are probably the most patriotic people in the world. The average half educated Frenchman is firmly persuaded that his country is an oasis of civilization surrounded with illimitable stretches of barbarism.

This is what he believes, but his courtesy prevents him from being offensive about it. In his estimation the rest of the world simply does not count. He knows that there are other parts of the world, but they are not worth his while to visit or to inquire about. That is why the Frenchman rarely travels and never emigrates.

He will ask you with surprise why he should travel, seeing that he is already in France and that he has no taste for savages or wild beasts. And as for its government, it is notoriously the best in the world, with a future so glorious as to defy the imagination. He will say all this with a disarming charm. He pities you for being a foreigner, but he does not hate you on that account, for, of course, you cannot help it.—Argonaut.

Colors and Tints.

Colors are mixed as follows to obtain tints:

For brown mix red and black.

For purple mix white, blue and lake.

For pink mix white and carmine.

For silver gray mix indigo and lamp-black.

For lead color mix white and lamp-black.

For dark green mix light green and black.

For pea green mix white and green.

For brilliant green mix white and emerald green.

For orange mix red and yellow.

For pearl gray mix white, blue and black.

For flesh color mix white, lake and vermilion.

For drab mix umber, white and venetian.

For cream mix white, yellow and venetian.

For olive mix red, blue and black.

For buff mix yellow and a little venetian.—Pittsburgh Dispatch.

Human Hair Traffic.

The trade in human hair is a big industry. Italians easily take the lead in this traffic, the main source of their supply being obtained from the peasant women of Italy, Dalmatia and Switzerland. Several times a year these human hair merchants send their agents around to collect supplies, which are usually immense, for hair growing is cultivated on a very large scale by these women and yields a good remuneration to the producer. Two crops of hair a year and looking none the worse for the loss is not extraordinary among the peasant women. Half the hair at the back of the head is shorn off, the remaining half being drawn over the exposed part and dressed in such a manner as only to be detected on very close scrutiny and by those experienced in the trade.

Conscience.

Ever present and operant is that which never becomes a party in one's guilt, conceives never an evil thought, consents never to an unrighteous deed, never sins, but holds itself impeccable, immutable, personally holy—the conscience—counselor, comforter, judge and executor of the spirit's decrees. None can see from the spirit's presence nor hide from himself. The reserved powers are the mighty ones. Side by side sleep the whispering sisters and the Eumenides. Nor is conscience appeased till the sentence is pronounced. There is an oracle in the breast, an unsleeping police, and ever the court sits, dealing doom or deliverance. One sole inheritance is our deeds. While remorse sits the sinner there remains hope of his redemption.—Alcott.

Why Naval Uniforms Are Blue.

Naval uniforms all the world over pretty well are very blue. The British fashion in this matter has been the rule with maritime people in general. That blue was ever selected for the king's naval service was a fortuitous happening. When in 1747 the question of uniform was being considered, the color selected had very like to have been French gray laced with silver. While the king was still not quite decided he saw the Duchess of Bedford in a riding habit of blue faced with white and enlivened with gold lace. It was a revelation. Here, the king declared, was the uniform for his sea service officers, and no more was heard of French gray. The navy took to blue, and every other navy has taken to it since.—Fall Mail Gazette.

Fraternal Obligations.

"We will now take up our annual collection for the benefit of the heathen," announced the Rev. Dr. Fourthly at the close of his sermon. And I hope those young men in the back seats who have been making so much noise all through this service will be especially liberal in their contributions. They are in duty and honor bound to help their brother heathens."—Philadelphia Ledger.

A Submarine View.

"My," said the little mermaid, "what's the cause of all this commotion?"

"Oh," replied Neptune, with a smile, "it's merely an ocean grayhound chasing a couple of catboats."—Florida Times-Union.

A Sure Thing.

French Fashions Show Shorter and Fuller Skirts

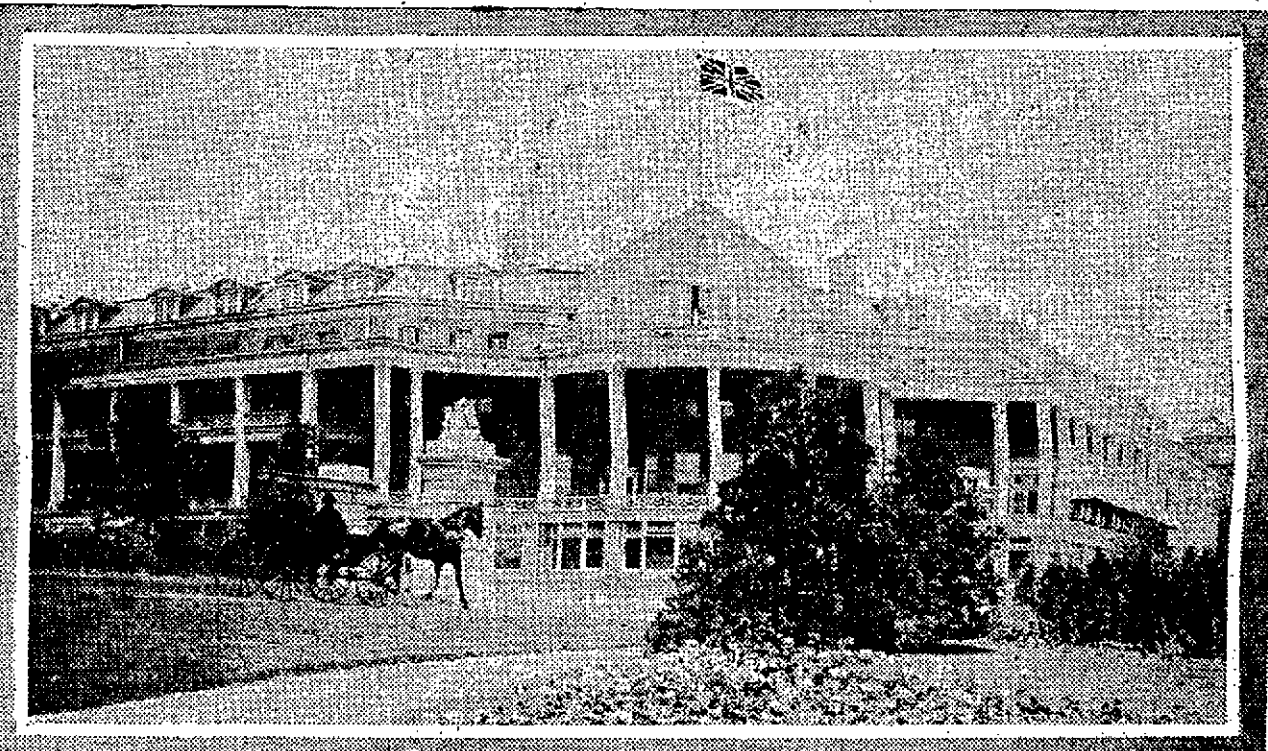

Several of the very newest features are introduced in this costume, snapped along the Champs Elysees only last week. The short and wider skirt is one of the first changes of the early season. The tunic is short and plain in front, growing fuller and longer toward the back. There is the combination of two materials, the color scheme being brought out in the footwear.

The skirt and jacket of this costume were made of black serge and the tunic, collar, and cuffs of black and white striped material. The patent leather shoes had white uppers, laced and stitched in black. We might well ask why the fur tightly clasped around the neck while the day was not warm enough to make the wearing of the fur uncomfortable, it most likely was worn of the same reason that high shoes were worn instead of low ones—it completed the costume and gave the desired ensemble.

The small hat, fitting closely to the head, and tilting at a smart angle, is still the popular model.

SILOS REDUCE ACRES NEEDED.
The experience of F. H. Gibbs, Brunswick, Ohio, illustrates how a more intensive system of agriculture naturally follows the taking up of dairying. Fifteen years ago Mr. Gibbs was the owner of 180 acres of land. About that time he went into the pure bred Holstein business. He sold 80 acres of his farm and was still able to keep as much stock as he had previously kept. This was largely due to the fact that he built a silo. Now, he says that by putting up another silo for summer feeding, he could decrease his farm to 50 acres and still keep as much stock as he had on the original 180 acres. Mr. Gibbs is a believer in the square silo. He built such a silo 15 years ago on which new repairs have been necessary since. With the exception of the hard pine lining, all the lumber used was hard wood that was sawed from native timber. From five to six acres of corn are usually sufficient to fill this silo as yields of corn on this farm have often been more than 100 bushels to the acre.

BUCKEYE LAKE PARK OPEN FOR SUMMER SEASON

Beautiful Buckeye Lake park, the mecca of central Ohio pleasure seekers, opened its summer season Sunday to immense crowds, who found the resort bedecked in bright new colors and greatly improved by the addition of several new comforts for patrons.

All the old concessionaires and several new ones were doing a big business at the resort Sunday, and all day long the lake was dotted with launches from the Del Fisher boat line and numerous smaller craft. Family picnic parties, fishing parties and the like, were on the job in great numbers, while the park itself kept big crowds from early morning until late at night, where the principal diversion was found in the dancing pavilion, which is this year surrounded by tables under the broad, cool roofs, where iced drinks are served.

Manager Will D. Harris has made a number of extensive improvements in the general appearance of the park, and has obtained the services of Prof. McCauley, musical director of Keith's theater, Columbus, who has provided an excellent concert band. The band gave concert programs in the afternoon before and after the dance program. Prof. McCauley's dance orchestra of six pieces gave excellent music and presented an attractive appearance in white, summery uniforms.

Associated with the management this season are most of those who have been connected with the park in executive capacities in past summers. Manager Harris is assisted by Bernard E. Smith, who recently returned here from Battle Creek, Mich., for the summer.

The Harris hotel, with bright, cool rooms, good meals, and barber shop and baths in connection, promises to have plenty of patronage this season from various parts of the country.

The Del Fisher boats have been given a thorough overhauling and several new launches have been put in commission. Indications are that this year Buckeye Lake park will draw bigger crowds than ever. Cottages are being well taken up and engagements are said to be booked far ahead in many instances where cottages are for lease. Not a few Newark and Columbus people who have private cottages at the lake have taken up their summer residence there, so that the "Atlantic City of Central Ohio" has now taken on its annual aspect of ease and enjoyment.

While cars from Newark ran to the lake only once each hour Sunday, the Ohio Electric gave good service and succeeded in handling the crowds as satisfactorily as could be expected in view of the large number going to the park for the opening day.

MANY REMARKABLE RESULTS OBTAINED IN NEWARK

Many cases of chronic eczema, salt rheum and tetter, lasting over ten years, that have exhausted the patience of the family doctor and baffled the skill of skin specialists are now yielding promptly to this new prescription for skin diseases. Amolox is a clean, mild, antiseptic liquid. Apply or wash the skin with a few drops, the ache and burning stops instantly. Barber's itch, ring worm, red nose, pimples, acne, are banished in a few days. So confident are we of the great merit of the Amolox Prescription we have made arrangements with T. J. Evans' Drug Store to pay back the money to any skin sufferer where the results are not satisfactory, the patient alone to be the judge.

A young man in high school was recently cured by Amolox of a very bad case of acne. His face was so broken out with sores and pustules, that the embarrassment from his unsightly appearance kept him from attending all social functions. A prominent citizen was cured of a chronic case of years' standing of eczema of the hands. Many cases like the above are being cured daily in towns where Amolox is being introduced.

NO REST FOR HIM.
"Are you going to take a vacation this year?"
"No, I've got to spend two weeks at Atlantic City with my wife."—Philadelphia Public Ledger.

EAST SIDE OF THE PUBLIC SQUARE

LARGE NUMBER OF PYTHIANS ATTEND CHURCH

Headed by Licking Company Uniformed Rank, They Hear Sermon by Rev. Don D. Tullis.

One of the largest attendances of lodge men in a body, upon a church service, was that of Sunday night at the Second Presbyterian church by the members of the Knights of Pythias lodges of the city.

Headed by the company of uniformed rank, under command of Captain Eugene Wolinski, and Lucien Taft and Rexford the body marched from the Anker block around the west side of the square to the church, where the entire middle section had been reserved for them and which they filled. Without music of any kind, not even a drum to march time, the uniformed men kept perfect step and alignment and with their new uniforms made a magnificent appearance.

Rev. Don D. Tullis, the minister of the church preached a sermon from the text found in Isaiah 32-2, "And a man shall be as a hiding place from the wind, and a covert from the tempest; as rivers of water in a dry place, as the shadow of a great rock in a weary land."

The discourse was made applicable to the special guests of the evening, and their privilege and duty to be representatives of the sentiment of the text. The theme which the speaker developed was put into five words, "Be true to your obligations."

CHRIST WILL COME AGAIN SAYS PASTOR

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)

Pittsburgh, May 25.—Ministers today were discussing a sermon delivered yesterday by Rev. W. L. Erwin, D. D., pastor of the Third Presbyterian church on the ascension which he closed with these words:

"The ascension is a guarantee that Christ will come again. It will be a personal coming; it will be a visible coming; it will be in glory and it will be sudden. It may be soon, sooner than the indifferent world expects. It is not for us to know the times and the seasons, which the Father keeps in his own hands, but there are conditions of unrest so strange that devout scholars are looking for the end of this dispensation."

HON. JOHN CLARK WILL SPEAK IN PARISH HOUSE

The Men's club of Trinity church will have a supper and smoker in the Parish House on Tuesday evening at 6 o'clock. This will be the final meeting until fall. The guest of the club will be the Hon. John Clark of Cleveland, one of the leading Democratic candidates for United States Senator. Mr. Clark is considered not only one of the great orators in Ohio, but one of the most eloquent speakers in the United States. He has often been compared to Burke Cochran of New York.

Mr. Clark will address the men on the subject of the Panama Canal. But a week ago, he and ex-Senator Foraker held a joint debate on the same subject in Cleveland. The members of the club are to be congratulated on having the opportunity of hearing such an able man on so interesting a subject.

THEN NOW

It was just seventy years ago today that the telegraph was formally introduced. Samuel F. B. Morse, the inventor who had worked for twelve years on electromagnetic communication, and his associate, Alfred Vail, had strung the first line between Washington and Baltimore. On the morning of May 24, 1844, Annie G. Ellsworth, daughter of the then commissioner of patents, burst into the United States Supreme court chambers in Washington where Morse and several distinguished men were gathered around his telegraph instrument, and brought the news that congress had appropriated $30,000 for official tests of the invention, after a disheartening series of refusals. Morse reached for the sending key and ticked off the historic message, "What hath God wrought?" Vail, in a station at Baltimore, surrounded by another group of distinguished men read the message upon a paper tape. Two days later the telegraph gave out its first public news by announcing that Polk had been nominated for the presidency in the Baltimore convention.

Today the telegraph is one of the most important strands holding modern civilization together. It is estimated that something like half a billion news dispatches, business communications and social messages are transmitted every year over the six million miles of telegraph wire connecting practically all of the most important settlements in the world. Nearly 300,000 miles of submarine telegraph also have been laid. One invention after another led to the reading of messages wholly by sound, to the sending of as many as a dozen messages simultaneously over one circuit and in a crude form the sending of pictures over the wire by intermittently flashing beams of light. In its most advanced form the telegraph has eliminated wires altogether and from hundreds of stations ashore and from the masts of almost every large ocean-going vessel the exchange of messages through the air has lately become almost as commonplace as ordinary wire communication.

ANSWER THE CALL. CHAUFFEUR CLUB ENTERTAINS AT FINE BANQUET

Newark People Have Found That This Is Necessary.

A cold, a strain, a sudden wrench, a little cause may hurt the kidneys. Spells of backache often follow. Or some irregularity of the urine. A splendid remedy for such attacks.

A medicine that has satisfied thousands.

Is Doan's Kidney Pills, a special kidney remedy.

Many Newark people rely on it. Here is Newark proof.

B. B. Pritchett, 406 Wilson street, Newark, O., says: "I am glad to confirm the statement I gave some years ago, recommending Doan's Kidney Pills. There is no better kidney medicine. I used Doan's Kidney Pills, and the trouble I had endured from poor kidney action was ended. Another of our family also endorses Doan's Kidney Pills very highly. She has had wonderful benefit from them and says she wouldn't be without them."

Price 50c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. Pritchett had. Foster-Milburn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y.

In celebration of the opening of club rooms by the Chauffeur club, composed of sixteen young men of this city employed as chauffeurs, a banquet was held Saturday night at their club rooms in South Fifth street. All the good things that the market afforded had been prepared, the chief piece de resistance being squab and broiled lobster. Roasted chicken was also on the menu with french peas and asparagus tips on toast. Chocolate cake and lemon ice featured the desert. Punch was served in hollow ice cups.

Clarence "Buster" Bowman acted as master of ceremonies and opened the after dinner talks by outlining the policy of the club and what they hoped to accomplish as members of that organization. He welcomed the guests, a half dozen of whom were present in addition to the club members, and concluded by introducing the president, Joseph "Kid" Copper. Mr. Copper made a neat little speech after which the banquet tables were pushed aside and the evening spent at cards and in the pool room, the club rooms being furnished with a pool table, a player piano and victrola. Everybody present had a splendid time and the affair was voted a pronounced success.
